June — The Talk, Round Zero

IAS 2026 · Building the Skeleton

No slides today. Just you, saying the whole talk out loud — badly, then better.

PART 1

The One-Liner

이 발표가 한 문장으로 뭐지.

“If the audience remembers only one sentence a week later — what should it be?”

청중이 기억할 단 한 문장

“Who's sitting in that room — and what do they already believe about your topic?”

청중은 누구고 뭐를 믿고 있나

TOOLS My talk is about ~ · The one thing I want the room to remember is ~ · Most people in this field assume ~

The Skeleton

문제 → 방법 → 발견 → 의미 — 3분 통짜로.

1 · The Problem 어떤 문제에서 시작했나

2 · The Method 뭐를 어떻게 봤나

3 · The Finding 뭐가 나왔나

4 · The Meaning 그래서 현장에 뭐가 달라지나

TOOLS The problem we started with was ~ · What we found was ~ · What this means for ~ is ~

PART 3

The Weak Spots

말하다 멈춘 자리가 다음 회차의 지도예요.

“Where did you slow down or switch to Korean? Let's mark those spots.”

멈춘 지점 표시

“Which part felt weakest as a story — not as science?”

과학 말고 이야기로서 약한 데

제일 무서운 질문

Round Zero, Done

The skeleton stands

문제→방법→발견→의미 — 뼈대가 섬으면 살은 나중에 붙여도 돼요.

Weak spots = next classes

오늘 표시한 구간들을 한 회차씩 다듬어가요.

This week

통짜 2회차 버전을 폰 녹음으로 남겨줘요 — 다음 수업 시작점이에요.

Great work today, June!
