

DO ENGLISH WITH BRIAN

Tell Me the Whole Story

Hong — Class 3

Roleplay · Discover 10 · Build Your Story

Let's Just Talk

Take your time — let's start with how you've been.

1

How have you been? Anything new since last class?

Just catching up — no pressure

2

Did you get to use any of last class's expressions?

Did any of them come out naturally?

3

Any movie or show worth talking about lately?

Pick one now — you'll need it in the roleplay

Today — the roleplay we ran out of time for, then 10 new expressions you'll work out yourself.

Say It Softly, Then Explain

Start with last class's expressions. They're on the screen — feel free to look.

SCENE 1

What did you think of it?

Brian asks what you thought of a movie or show. Don't stop at "good" or "bad" — soften it, then explain.

Brian: "So, what did you think of it? Worth watching?"

USE THESE

- ☐ I'd say ~
- ☐ It's kind of a ~
- ☐ if anything

SCENE 2

Are you into that kind of thing?

Brian asks about your taste. Describe your general pattern — then add the exception.

Brian: "Are you into romance movies in general?"

USE THESE

- ☐ for the most part
- ☐ more often than not
- ☐ when it comes to ~
- ☐ that's not to say ~

Keep It Rolling

This time Brian throws in a random topic. The goal is simple — don't let it stop.

SCENE 3

Wait — that reminds me of something

Brian suddenly changes the subject. Don't panic — pick it up and keep it rolling. There's no right answer here. Not stopping is the right answer.

USE THESE

- ☐ now that you mention it
- ☐ come to think of it
- ☐ the way I see it, ~

CHECKPOINT · DID YOU USE ALL TEN?

☐ I'd say ~

☐ It's kind of a ~

☐ more often than not

☐ for the most part

☐ if anything

☐ now that you mention it

☐ come to think of it

☐ the way I see it, ~

☐ that's not to say ~

☐ when it comes to ~

Discover It Yourself ①

No meanings given. Read the three examples, work it out — then build a sentence of your own.

out of nowhere

① What does it mean? ② When would you use it?

"Out of nowhere, it started pouring."
"She texted me out of nowhere after five years."
"A cat ran out of nowhere and I nearly screamed."

YOUR TURN

the next thing I knew

① What does it mean? ② When would you use it?

"The next thing I knew, the movie was over."
"I sat down for a second — the next thing I knew, it was midnight."
"The next thing I knew, everyone was staring at me."

YOUR TURN

I was like

① What does it mean? ② When would you use it?

"I was like, 'Are you serious right now?'"
"She told me the price and I was like, no way."
"I was like, this can't be happening."

YOUR TURN

you should've seen

① What does it mean? ② When would you use it?

"You should've seen his face."
"You should've seen how long the line was."
"You should've seen me trying to explain it in English."

YOUR TURN

to top it off

① What does it mean? ② When would you use it?

"I missed the bus, and to top it off, it started raining."
"The food was cold, and to top it off, the service was slow."
"To top it off, my phone died right then."

YOUR TURN

Discover It Yourself ②

Same idea — notice the pattern, work it out, then make it yours.

believe it or not

① What does it mean? ② When would you use it?

"Believe it or not, I'd never seen that movie."

"Believe it or not, he showed up on time."

"I finished the whole series in one night, believe it or not."

YOUR TURN

it turned out

① What does it mean? ② When would you use it?

"It turned out to be my favorite film of the year."

"It turned out she was right all along."

"The place looked awful, but it turned out fine."

YOUR TURN

in the end

① What does it mean? ② When would you use it?

"In the end, I decided not to go."

"We argued for an hour, but in the end we agreed."

"In the end, it was worth every minute."

YOUR TURN

long story short

① What does it mean? ② When would you use it?

"Long story short, we never made it there."

"Long story short, I got the job."

"Long story short — don't ask me to cook again."

YOUR TURN

that reminds me of

① What does it mean? ② When would you use it?

"That reminds me of my trip to Jeju."

"Your story reminds me of something that happened last year."

"That reminds me of a movie I watched as a kid."

YOUR TURN

PUT IT TOGETHER

Now Tell Me One Real Story

String your own sentences together — not ten separate phrases, but one real story.

1 START

Open it up

that reminds me of
believe it or not

2 IT HAPPENS

Something happens

out of nowhere
the next thing I knew

3 IT GETS WORSE

And it gets worse

I was like
you should've seen
to top it off

4 THE ENDING

Land it

it turned out
in the end
long story short

PICK ONE · CHOOSE YOUR STORY

- ☐ A day when everything went wrong
- ☐ The most surprising thing that happened this year
- ☐ A movie that completely surprised you

Great job today, Hong!

You didn't get taught these — you worked them out yourself.

Now you can carry a whole story in English, not just a line.
Practice with the Listen & Shadow file — see you next class!
