The One You Remember · The Ones Calling You · The Interview Bridge

From Someone... to Somewhere

Last time, someone you'll never forget. Today — somewhere you'll never forget.

Quick catch-up

How was your week? Any flights, applications, or good news?

One-line opener

“If you could be anywhere in the world right now — where would you be?”

Just one sentence each — we'll come back to this at the end.

Sydney

Walk me through it like a photo album — the streets, the harbor, the feeling.

A few things you might cover:

- › What made Sydney special — walk me through your favorite moment there.
- › Any hidden gems you found — a café, a street, a beach?
- › Looking back — what part of you did that trip change?

💡 Weave in these (from Class 4):

- a hidden gem
- in the middle of nowhere
- be packed with
- have a certain charm
- it's worth -ing

You've heard these in your Listen & Shadow — now make them yours.

The Places Calling You

Five ways to talk about where you're dying to go — then we'll use them right away.

- ❑ be dying to ~ "I'm dying to see the northern lights."
- ❑ at the top of my list "Santorini is at the top of my list."
- ❑ what draws me to ~ is ~ "What draws me to Paris is the atmosphere."
- ❑ if I get the chance to ~ "If I get the chance to fly there for work, I'll take it."
- ❑ experience ~ firsthand "I want to experience that culture firsthand."

 Now you: "So — where are you dying to fly?" Pick two or three cities and tell me, using at least three of the five.

Same Stories, New Stage

Everything you just said — now say it to an interviewer. Brian puts on the badge.

Q1 “Tell me about a trip you'll never forget.”

Your Sydney story — Part 1, one level up.

Q2 “As cabin crew, you could fly anywhere. Which route excites you most — and why?”

Your dream places — Part 2, with the new five.

This is the moment a traveler becomes cabin crew — same story, told with purpose.
