Say It in English

01 “Which requirements surprised you?”

예상과 달랐던 조건은 뭐였어요?

02 “Where do you already meet everything?”

이미 전부 충족하는 곳은 어디예요?

No ranking. No advice. Just the facts — and what you saw in them.

PART TWO

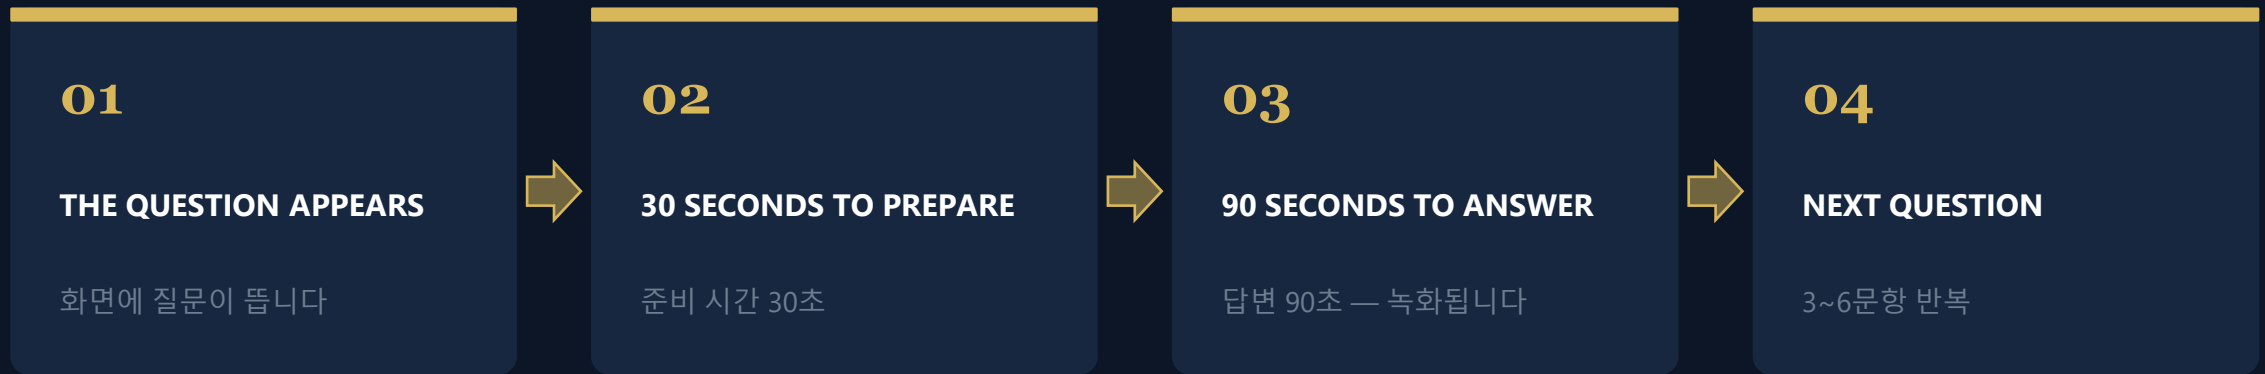

What They Actually Ask

You've seen the requirements. Now — the questions, the clock, and the answer that fits inside it.

Thirty Seconds to Think. Ninety to Speak.

This is the shape of an online interview — no interviewer, no second chance, just a camera and a clock.

⚠ The number one reason people are rejected here

Going over time, or rambling to fill the silence.

시간 초과와 중언부언이 사전 녹화 영상 면접의 탈락 1위 원인이에요. 침묵은 문제가 아니고, 침묵을 메우려 말을 늘리는 게 문제예요.

The Nine That Keep Coming Back

Reported again and again by Emirates applicants — and echoed at Qatar, Cathay and SIA.

01

“Tell me about yourself.”

02

“Why do you want to work for us?”

03

“Tell me about a time you dealt with a difficult customer.”

04

“Tell me about a time you worked in a team.”

05

“Tell me about a conflict with a colleague.”

06

“How do you handle stress or pressure?”

07

“Tell me about a mistake you made.”

08

“Have you worked with people from different cultures?”

09

“Why is safety important?”

 Pick one. Answer it right now — out loud, in English, before we look at any structure.

And the Ones That Dig

From real interview reports — situational, behavioural, and the awkward ones.

SERVICE & RECOVERY

“How would you turn an unhappy customer experience into a positive one?”

“Tell me about a time you went above and beyond for a customer.”

“A passenger asks for a product from a higher cabin. What do you do?”

SAFETY & JUDGEMENT

“You notice a crew member not following a safety procedure. What do you do?”

“Tell me about a time you had to say no to a customer.”

“Tell me about a time you faced an obstacle at work.”

YOU, PERSONALLY

“Why do you want to relocate to Dubai / Doha / Hong Kong?”

“How would you feel about working weekends and night flights?”

“What would you do if you don't get in this time?”

이주 질문은 특히 중요해요 — 막연한 열정보다 조사와 현실적 기대치를 보여주는 지원자를 높게 평가해요.

Trying Too Hard

The most common mistake at Gulf carriers — reported by recruiters themselves.

“Candidates who overtalk, dominate group exercises, or deliver rehearsed answers often perform worse than those who remain calm, authentic, and prepared.”

overtalk

“Airlines want someone who's calm, warm, confident, and real. Not perfect — just real.”

Two Interviews, Same Person

A reported case from a cabin crew community — what changed between the fail and the pass.

ATTEMPT ONE — REJECTED

- The recruiter started friendly — then the tone shifted.
- The smiles faded. Answers got shorter. Eye contact dropped.
- It ended earlier than expected.
- She had given all the right answers — but hadn't shown enough personality.

ATTEMPT TWO — HIRED

- She focused on natural conversation instead of rehearsed politeness.
- The recruiters leaned in. Extra questions came. Even a joke or two.
- Nothing about her qualifications had changed.
- Only how she showed up.

🗨 Same résumé. Same face. Different result.

The Physics of a Recorded Answer

Small mechanical things that decide how you come across when nobody's there.

THE ONE-SECOND PAUSE

A pause before a hard question reads as thoughtfulness — not hesitation.

어려운 질문 앞 1초 멈춤은 사려깊음으로 읽혀요

HANDS IN FRAME, STILL

Touching your face, tapping, shifting — it pulls attention away from your words.

손은 화면 안에, 가만히

ENERGY, SLIGHTLY UP

Energy translates differently on camera. You need a little more than in person.

카메라에서는 평소보다 조금 더 밝게

EYES ON THE LENS

Not on your own face in the corner. The lens is the interviewer.

화면 속 내 얼굴이 아니라 렌즈를 봐요

PLAIN BACKGROUND

Neutral, uncluttered, well lit. Camera at eye level.

단정한 배경, 눈높이 카메라

Four Beats for Any “Tell Me About a Time...”

Recruiters score these answers against a rubric — so the structure matters as much as the story.

Keep the whole thing to 20–25 seconds of story. Specific beats impressive — one real detail is worth three adjectives.

“Tell Me About Yourself” — In Five Beats

One minute. Fifty-five seconds is better. This is the structure behind a thousand successful answers.

The first five seconds decide whether they keep listening.

What It Sounds Like

A model built on the same five beats — not to copy, but to hear the shape.

5s “Hi, I’m Hong. I’m the kind of person who notices what someone needs before they ask.”

15s “For two years I worked weekends at a café near my school. On busy mornings I served maybe two hundred people, and I learned to read a face in about three seconds — who’s in a rush, who wants to talk.”

15s “That’s where my rule came from: notice first, ask second. Most people don’t want to explain themselves twice.”

15s “That’s why this airline interests me. You fly people from a hundred and fifty places, and most of them can’t explain themselves twice either.”

5s “I want to be the crew member people remember because they didn’t have to ask.”

Notice: no school name, no adjectives about herself, one real number, and a closing line you could actually say out loud.

Now Build Yours

Out loud, in English. Rough is fine — we'll shape it together.

5s WHO YOU ARE “I'm the kind of person who _____.”

15s ONE SERVICE MOMENT “One time, at _____, I _____.”

15s WHAT IT TAUGHT YOU “That's where my rule came from: _____.”

15s WHY THIS AIRLINE “That's why _____ interests me — because _____.”

5s WHERE YOU'RE GOING “I want to be the crew member who _____.”

Five Openings That Lose the Room

From an analysis of a thousand cabin crew self-introductions — the patterns that cost people the first thirty seconds.

School and hometown first

"I graduated from _____ University, majoring in _____."

학력·고향 나열형

Family credentials

"I grew up with strict parents who taught me..."

가족 자랑형

Adjectives with no proof

"I'm responsible and hard-working."

일반론 답변

Over ninety seconds

Trust drops the moment you pass a minute and a half.

너무 긴 자기소개

Clearly memorised

Flat tone, eyes searching — they can hear it immediately.

외운 티 나는 자기소개

첫 번째 항목이 가장 흔해요 — 그리고 가장 많이 걸려져요.

The English That Actually Gets Scored

Not the English a test measures. A coach with thirteen years of interview prep breaks it into three.

01

INSTANT RESPONSE

First word within a second. Whole answer inside thirty to sixty.

즉답력 — 한국어로 옮겨 생각할 틈이 없어야 해요

02

EVERYDAY WORDS

The hundred words interviews actually use — customer, team, challenge, support, appreciate.

일상 회화 어휘 100개의 자유로운 운용

03

BEING UNDERSTOOD

Not a native accent. Just clear enough that the interviewer never has to guess.

명료성 — 면접관이 알아들으면 통과예요

“Someone with 800 on the test who practises speaking thirty minutes a day for six months passes more often than someone with 950 who has never built an answer out loud.”

A Six-Month Build

Three phases. Every one of them ends with your mouth open, not your eyes.

MONTH 1–2

FILL THE EARS

- BBC Learning English — 6 Minute English, one a day, with dictation
- IELTS Listening Section 1 — everyday information
- Watch interview videos from people who got in

MONTH 3–4

OPEN THE MOUTH

- Write answers to 30 core questions — in 30s, 60s and 90s versions
- Record yourself daily and watch it back
- Fix the awkward phrasing you hear in your own voice

MONTH 5–6

UNDER PRESSURE

- Answer unprepared questions within one second
- Simulate group exercises — take someone's point and add yours
- Apply for real, then rework what broke

The trap: filling your ears for six months and never opening your mouth. That's the most common Korean pattern.

Not Ten Thousand Words. These Ones.

The vocabulary interviews actually run on — used freely, not recognised passively.

One Question, Ninety Seconds

“Why do you want to fly for a foreign airline?”

외항사 면접 단골 문항이자 — 오늘 당신이 스스로에게 답해야 하는 질문이에요.
