Living in Indonesia — What's It Really Like?

Let's just talk. No pressure — tell me about your life in Indonesia.

Life Out There

How long have you been living in Indonesia? What's daily life actually like?

The Business

What does a typical day look like for you at the factory? What's your role?

The Good & The Hard

What do you love about living there? Anything you find challenging?

Coming & Going

How often do you come back to Korea? What do you miss most when you're away?

When Life Surprises You · When You're Catching Up

When something unexpected happens

- out of the blue
갑자기, 뜬금없이
"Out of the blue, an old friend messaged me."
- I wasn't expecting that 그건 예상 못 했어
"I wasn't expecting that — what a surprise!"
- what are the odds
이런 우연이!
"What are the odds we'd run into each other here?"

Try these:

Q: "Has anything happened recently that came completely out of the blue?"

Q: "What's something that happened in Indonesia that you really weren't expecting?"

When you're catching up with someone

- it's been a while 오랜만이다
"It's been a while — how have you been?"
- catch up
근황을 나누다
"Let's grab coffee and catch up sometime."
- I can't help but ~ 하지 않을 수 없다
"I can't help but smile when I think about those days."

Try these:

Q: "When you come back to Korea, who do you always make time to catch up with?"

Q: "Is there someone you haven't seen in a long time that you can't help but think about?"

When You're Explaining Choices or Preferences

When you're explaining choices or preferences

□ it depends

상황에 따라 달라

"It depends on the season — sometimes I prefer staying in."

□ that being said

그렇긴 하지만

"It's not easy living abroad. That being said, I wouldn't trade this experience."

□ go-to

즐거 찾는 , 믿을 수 있는

"My go-to place for lunch is this little warung near the factory."

□ make the most of 최대한 활용하다

"I try to make the most of my time whenever I'm back in Korea."

Try these:

Q: "Do you prefer living in Indonesia or Korea? (Careful — this one calls for 'it depends'...)"

Q: "What's your go-to way to unwind after a long week at the factory?"

Q: "How do you make the most of your time when you're back in Korea?"
